Join Us - Pediatric Palliative Care Workshop

A Campaign to Ease Symptoms and Enhance Lives

The National Institute of Nursing Research (NINR), part of the National Institutes of Health, wants to help patients, families, and providers understand the benefits of pediatric palliative care. As a result, NINR created a public education campaign about palliative care for children and teens living with serious illnesses.

Palliative Care: Conversations Matter™ offers free, evidence-based materials designed to help providers start conversations with pediatric patients and their families.

If you are interested in seeing how you could use new materials in your practice, please join us for a workshop on [Date], [Time], [Location]. We'll look at how the campaign's materials can be a valuable resource for all health care professionals, and the patients and families they work with.
